Kickoff ◉ May 13

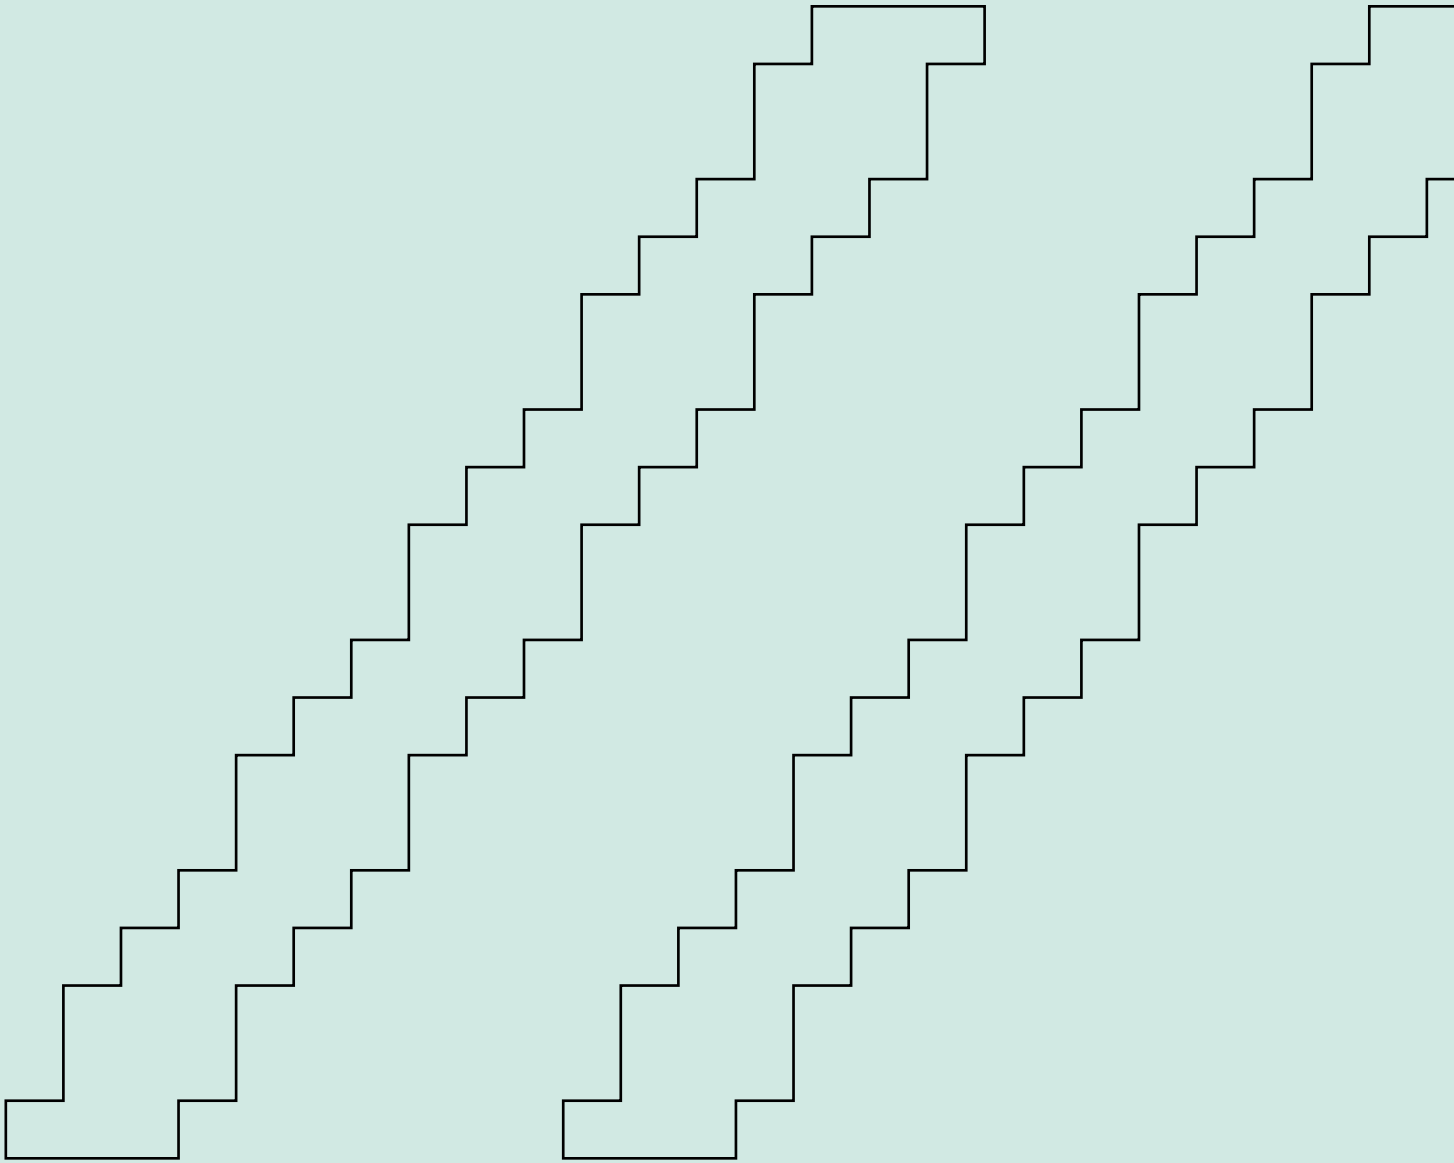

We open with morning field trips and an afternoon-into-evening social event

Conference ◉ May 14–15

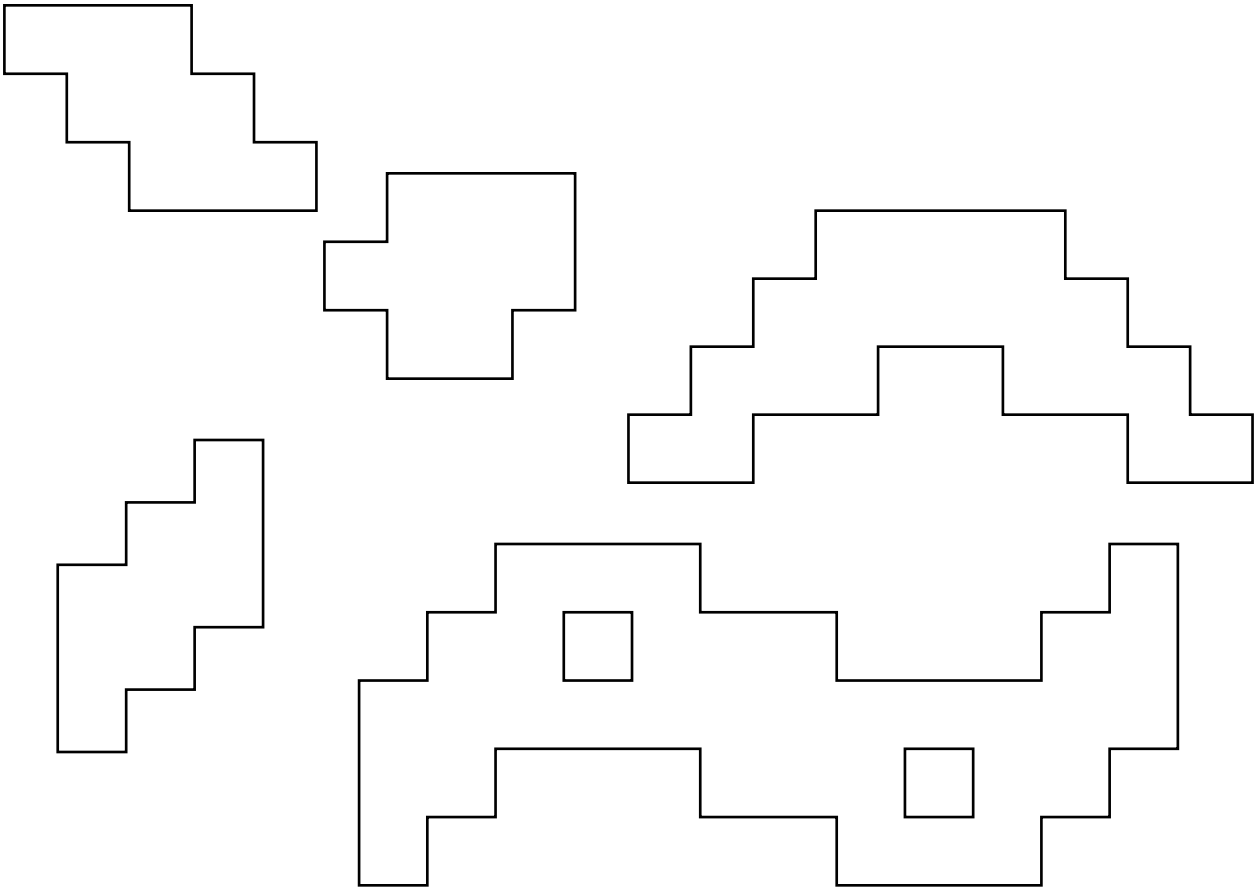

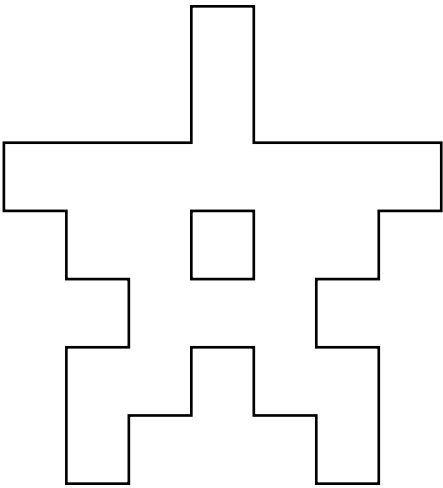

The weekend is our main event, 2 days packed full of talks, demos, and workshops

Sprints ◉ May 16–18

The final 3 days are in-person, collaborative project sprints

We have seen a growing number of peer-to-peer, inclusive, and privacy-respecting projects mobilizing in favour of resilient, accessible, equitable communications over the internet in 2017. And yet many open questions remain. In the face of threats to the open internet, which tools and tactics will help us recognize the opportunities and challenges of this moment? What kinds of creative and critical engagement with technology practices can enable meaningful change when we do it with others?
